

What color to wear Home vs. Away

Uniforms a. The two Teams must wear colors that distinguish them from each other and from the referee and assistant referees. b. Each goalkeeper must wear colors that distinguish him/her from the other players, the referee, and the assistant referees. c. The home team shall wear their darker colored jerseys and the visiting team shall wear their lighter colored jerseys. d. If there is still a conflict, the home team must change. Explanatory Notes: • If a team has red and black as their colors, their home jersey will be their black kit and their away jersey shall be their red kit. If the aforementioned team visits another team whose colors are red and white, the home team would be red and the away team would be red. In this instance, the home team would change to their white colors. This shall be the only time when a home team is required to change their uniforms. Therefore if a team is the away team and their colors are blue and white, they shall expect to wear their white kits and not their blue kits. A traveling team shall not out of disrespect to the opponent, officials, and to the match wear their dark uniforms and expect the home team to change because the traveling teams doesn't want to wear their lighter colored kits or for another reason. • A Team may not select a jersey that is half light/half dark to serve as both its home and away jersey. • A player must wear the same color sock on both feet, all players on the Team must have matching socks, and the Team's socks must be a different color than the opponent's socks. 13 Updated April, 2019 e.
